License plates from the getaway car were found near Tipton, Wis., the car located in Merrill, Wis. The man who left the car at Merrill, Wis., was flown to Minneapolis Monday night in a private plane. He is believed to be the same man arrested by Superior, Wis., police driving a rental car from St. Paul Tuesday. In his possession was $7,200 in cash and travelers cheques and a federal bank robbery warrant was issued against him today. (Daily Press locator map)

Man, 35, Held By Police In Bark River Bank Job

By DAVE ANDREWS

The Federal Bureau of Investigation today authorized a federal bank robbery warrant issued against a Flint, Mich., man who was arrested in Superior, Wis., Tuesday.

Held in the Douglas County jail under $25,000 bond is Robert D. Ross, 35.

FBI agents said that Ross has been identified as one of three men who participated Monday in the daring $32,000 armed robbery of the Bark River State Bank.

The two other men involved in the robbery are still at large.

FBI agents from Green Bay, Wausau and Superior, Wis., Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn., and Marquette and Sault Ste. Marie in the Upper Peninsula joined with State Police and sheriff's officers in three states as the investigation continued.

Ross was arrested by Superior police about 5:30 p. m. Tuesday after an alert flashed by Duluth, Minn., police. He had in his possession $7,195 in cash and travelers cheques which were believed taken in the Bark River robbery.

Ross was unarmed and offered little resistance. Superior authorities said he was driving a rental car obtained from a St. Paul, Minn., agency.

FBI agents, meanwhile, continued their investigation at Tipton and Merrill, Wis., and in the Minneapolis-St. Paul areas.

A 1966 blue Cadillac hardtop was identified by Merrill police and FBI agents today as the car used in the robbery getaway. The car was found abandoned at the Merrill airport after an anonymous tip telephoned to the Wausau, Wis., police.

Merrill officers said the man who left the car had telephoned the airport manager about 9:30 p. m. Monday to make arrangements for a chartered flight to Minneapolis. Police said he arrived at the airport about 10:30 p. m. after he was forced to stop near the airport to change a tire. He was alone and told airport officials he was a businessman.

Authorities said the description of the man flown from Merrill to Minneapolis matches the description of the man held at Superior.

Ross, when arrested in Superior, was carrying $2,061 in cash and $1,500 in travelers cheques. Another $3,074 was found in the automobile glove compartment. The money in the glove compartment included about $2,000 in $5 bills. Ross also was carrying several $100 bills, police said.

(Ross was arraigned this morning in federal court in Superior on a federal fugitive warrant on a forgery charge in Flint. Bond was set at $20,000.)

(Ross was known to police in the Duluth-Superior area because of a manhunt in May during which he was unsuccessfully sought on Michigan auto theft and burglary charges.)

He was recognized by Duluth police Tuesday, who gave chase and alerted Superior authorities.

Find Plates
In other developments, Police Tuesday located the New York license plates which were on the getaway car at the time of the robbery in a wooded area near Tipton, Wis., which is about 22 miles west of Florence, Wis.

Authorities also found a torn up auto registration slip from Michigan with license number KD-6720. State Police said the registration was from Genesee County (Flint) and had been stolen May 27.

The Cadillac located at the Merrill airport had Michigan license plates.

Also found at the scene near Tipton were money wrappers, apparently stripped from cash taken in the robbery.

Police were alerted to the wooded area by a resident of Tipton who noticed the car in the area early Monday evening. He did not associate the automobile with the robbery, however, until later when he heard reports of the case broadcast.

Returning to the area in the morning, he found the license plates and notified police.

FBI agents today were reported closing in on the other two men involved in the case. Ross is believed to be the shorter of the two men who entered the bank Monday afternoon. Still at large are the taller man, who was described as being about 6-foot tall, slender build and with dark hair, and the driver of the getaway car, who reportedly was dressed at the time in a white short sleeve shirt. He is believed to have blond hair in a crew cut.

The two men who entered the bank forced cashier Loyal Hanson to open a small safe in a vault, while four women employees were locked in a second vault. Hanson was then ushered into the vault with the women while the men cleaned out cash drawers in the bank.

The bandits made their getaway in a 1966 blue Cadillac hardtop, which was the subject of an extensive search in the Upper Midwest area until it was located Tuesday at Merrill.

Elephant Kills 3-Year-Old Girl In Madison Zoo

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Nine-year-old Michael Sharpe heard a mother scream.

A 3-year-old girl with her bag of popcorn had slipped under the gate near the elephant cage at the Henry Vilas Park Zoo Tuesday.

Winkie, a 3½ ton import from India, snaked her trunk out through the bars and curled it around the child.

"I didn't know what to do," Michael said. "Winkie just grabbed her and started pulling her in. She was trumpeting and the girl's mother was screaming. I don't know what was wrong with Winkie. I never saw her that way."

The girl was Ruth Ellen Freedman, the daughter of Prof. Ralph Freedman of Princeton University.

Before anyone could reach her, the elephant smashed the child against the bars of the cage, dropped her, picked her up again, drew her inside the cage and let her fall unconscious to the concrete floor.

After Mrs. Freedman screamed, she and her husband dashed to a gate and entered in an attempt to rescue the child but by then the elephant had pulled her through the bars.

Ruth Ellen was dead on arrival at the hospital.

Dane County Coroner Clyde Chamberlain said the fatal injury probably was inflicted by the elephant's feet after the child was inside the cage.

Camera On Moon Doesn't Respond

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—America's camera on the moon, Surveyor 1, failed Tuesday night to respond to initial commands sent to reactivate it after the super-cold lunar night — two weeks at temperatures as low as 260 degrees below zero.

Said a spokesman at Jet Propulsion Laboratory, which sent the commands: "This was not totally expected. We hoped it would work."

The 620-pound spacecraft which began sending pictures June 1 after a soft landing on the moon, transmitted more than 10,000 pictures before it was engulfed in the lunar night June 14.

JPL, through its Goldstone, Calif., transmitter, attempted to Surveyor again for 3½ hours beginning at 6 p. m., approximately 5½ hours before the lunar sunrise.

The JPL spokesman said further transmissions would be sent Wednesday and Thursday night, and, if unsuccessful, another attempt would be made July 7 when the craft's solar panels face the sun at lunar noon.

Three reasons were given why initial attempts to revive Surveyor failed: the craft's batteries could be completely dead; since it was still lunar night, it was too cold for Surveyor to answer; or the extreme cold disrupted the contact frequencies.

Civil Service Authorizes Overtime Pay For State

LANSING (AP)—Time and one half for overtime for 29,000 of the state's 35,000 Civil Service workers was authorized today by the State Civil Service Commission.

Executive and top supervisory personnel will not get the overtime. The commission said the cutoff point for overtime pay generally will be for those making $3,500 a year or more.

Franklin Dewald, state Civil Service director, said it has been estimated the overtime will cost the state an additional $2.2 million a year.

The new overtime policy will be effective July 1. At present, state workers are paid straight time for overtime or allowed compensating time off. They will be paid for hours worked in excess of 40 hours a week.

The state Civil Service payroll for the next fiscal year is estimated at slightly more than $220 million.

The Legislature had to waive constitutional restrictions on the commission's pay-setting authority to allow the change.

The legislative action also allows state agencies to pay the overtime out of appropriations for the first half of the fiscal year. They then will be permitted to come back in January to ask for a deficiency appropriation for the last six months of the fiscal period.

In a companion action, the commission ordered overtime for State Police troopers when they work more than 40 hours a week.

Troopers currently are required to work 48 hours a week before they are eligible for the overtime. The normal state trooper work week is 45 hours so the order will mean a substantial increase in take-home pay.

The starting hourly rate for troopers effective July 1 will be $3.04 and the top hourly rate $4.28.

The Legislature authorized an earmarked appropriation of $1.4 million to underwrite the State Police overtime.

Budget Battle On In Lansing

LANSING (AP)—Lawmakers try again today to find a compromise somewhere between an Upper Peninsula "Copper Country" road and a southern Lake Michigan wilderness park.

The two remaining bills implementing the 1966-67 state budget snagged on these two issues in a heated session that lasted into the early hours Saturday. Both houses adjourned until August after failing to reach agreement — technically killing the $71 million capital outlay bill.

But they were called back into an open-ended session, starting today, by House and Senate majority leaders. Speaker Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, and Senate Majority Leader Raymond Dzendzel, D-Detroit, say they are optimistic that the bills can be passed before the beginning of the new fiscal year Friday.

The capital outlay bill, containing the park provisions, can be revived by reconsidering the vote by which the conference reported a House-Senate compromise failed to pass, Kowalski said.

Still awaiting action is the $311.5 million restricted funds bill, containing the road.

Hazard Of Fires Peaks In Forest

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's northern Lower Peninsula is tinderbox dry and the forest fire hazard is at a peak, reports the State Conservation Department.

"We're very concerned about the fire danger because so many people will be visiting the area this weekend," said Milton Bergman, chief of the department's Forest Fire Division.

Bergman said the department may ask Gov. George Romney to issue a proclamation restricting the use of fire out of doors if the high hazard conditions continue.

Northern Lower Michigan, Bergman said, hasn't had a good soaking rain for nearly a month. Occasional rains in the Upper Peninsula and the southern part of the state have bypassed northern Lower Michigan, he said.

Several large fires that were difficult to bring under control already have been reported, Bergman said.

The largest burned over some 3,000 acres about 12 miles north of West Branch. Several others nearby that large have been reported.

A high percentage of the fires have been concentrated in the Au Sable River drainage area, which extends from Kalkaska to Lake Huron, Bergman said.

"All this area is intensively used for recreation and the danger from fires will be extreme this weekend," Bergman said.

Thunderchiefs At Hanoi

Six flights of Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs struck the petroleum complex three miles across the Red River from the center of Hanoi, using 750-pound bombs during the 25-minute attack, the U.S. spokesman said. He said the area around the 32 tanks had no sizable population.

Four flights of Navy jets from the 7th Fleet carriers Constellation and Ranger raided the oil facilities at Haiphong, two miles from the center of the city. The spokesman said 95 per cent of the fuel going into North Viet Nam moves through the depot, which contains 38 tanks above and below ground. The raid lasted eight minutes.

No Red Fighters
A flight usually numbers about four aircraft.

The American pilots ran into intensive anti-aircraft fire over Hanoi but said they encountered little flak in the Haiphong area.

The Communists did not send up any MIG fighters to challenge the U.S. fighter-bombers nor were any surface-to-air missiles sighted, the spokesman said.

U.S. planes have been gradually tightening a noose around Hanoi and its port, which lies 65 miles to the east. There has been pressure in some quarters in Washington for an aerial offensive against the cities of Hanoi and Haiphong themselves.

Only Tuesday, the White House declined to comment on reports circulating in Washington that President Johnson had canceled air strikes against Hanoi and Haiphong in the past five days because of security leaks.

Only Military Targets
The U.S. Command's communication on the attack said the destruction of the oil facilities would "make infiltration of men and supplies into South Viet Nam more costly and more difficult." It said the raids were ordered after consultation with the South Vietnamese government and were "consistent with our continuing policy of bombing only military targets in North Viet Nam."

They followed three successive days of bombardment of fuel storage areas in other parts of North Viet Nam. There were also three days of similar strikes last week.

Treatment Is Faulty Claims Doctor-Addict

NEW YORK (AP)—A doctor who became a drug addict charges the medical profession "doesn't know how to treat me, and doesn't really want to know."

"The profession that has for generations battled to keep the government from intervening between the doctor and his patient is content to let a federal tax agency tell it what to prescribe for me," he writes anonymously in the July 1 issue of Medical World News.

The Bureau of Internal Revenue is responsible for administering and enforcing federal narcotics laws.

Eight years ago, at age 35, he writes, he was a successful pediatrician in a wealthy New Jersey suburb, with a wife and five children.

Then he began taking a codeine-and-aspirin combination to ease a gnawing tension that built up during the afternoons, and soon progressed to hypodermics of morphine.

Knowing he was heading for trouble, he consulted a psychiatrist who advised hospitalization. Eight months in a private mental hospital used up his savings, "and I made wonderful progress in all respect but one. I didn't find out why I took drugs."

His drug consumption increased, and he next went to "the mecca of all American addicts, the U.S. Public Health Service Hospital in Lexington, Ky. But any kind of therapy there is bound to founder on the twin rocks of coercion and incarceration."

Pollution Report

Escanaba Waste Plant Adequate, Gladstone Not

GREEN BAY, Wis. — The City of Escanaba was one of only six communities in the Green Bay watershed of Wisconsin and Michigan to have an adequate municipal waste treatment plant, according to a federal report.

The report called for improvements and made recommendations to "provide the clean water necessary to accommodate a growing population, an expanding economy and a rapidly increasing need for additional recreational areas."

The report covers Green Bay and the Fox, Oconto, Peshtigo, Fond, Menominee, Escanaba, Whitefish and Sturgeon Rivers.

Only Escanaba, Fond du Lac, Berlin, Shawano, and Peshtigo, Wis. found to need no improvements.

Gladstone, Menominee, Iron Mountain and Kingsford in the Upper Peninsula and Marinette, Neenah, Menasha, Waupaca and Niagara in Wisconsin were found to need secondary treatment plants.

River Affected
William G. Kehr, project director of the Great Lakes-Illinois river basins project, warned that present use of the bay and rivers feeding into the bay was being adversely affected by pollution. Included was recreation and fish life in the Escanaba River and municipal and industrial water supply; recreation, irrigation, fish life, wildlife and stock watering, cooling water supply and aesthetics in Green Bay.

Escanaba takes its water supply from Green Bay.

The full report will be presented Thursday at the governor's conference on Lake Michigan pollution.

Need Plants
Larger waste treatment plants were reported needed at Green Bay, DePere, Appleton, Little Chute, Kimberly, Kaukauna, Oshkosh, Portage and Clintonville, Wis. Found needing disinfection at the plants were Little Chute, Kimberly, Ripon, Portage, New London, Clintonville and Oconto Falls.

Recommendations made included:

• All municipal waste treatment plants should be designed and operated to provide secondary (biological) waste treatment and to achieve an overall reduction in untreated five day biological oxygen demand of 90 per cent higher.

• Continuous disinfection for treatment plant effluents.

• Maximum phosphate removal, an essential step in preventing heavy fertilization.

• Continuous secondary waste treatment and disinfection for sanitary sewage discharged from industries.

• Prohibition of combined sewers in all new urban areas and separation of present sewers in co-ordination with urban renewal projects.

• Waste treatment plant inspections annually for small plants and at least semiannually for larger plants by water pollution control agencies. Monthly reports should be submitted.

• A mandatory sewage treatment plant operators' certification program in Wisconsin.

• A schedule from all industries and municipalities discharging wastes into Green Bay outlining construction modifications, process changes or operating procedures necessary to meet the recommendations.

State Short On Outdoor Funds

Michigan will have to find some way of raising $167 million in new revenue if it is to be able to finance an ambitious 10-year recreation program proposed by the Department of Conservation.

Charles D. Harris, Lansing, deputy director of the department, outlined the proposed $247,650,000 recreation program to delegates to the annual convention of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs at Marquette. Financing now available would cover only $79 million of the total projected cost.

"In 1945 the annual budget for maintenance and operation of all state parks amounted to only $300,000," he said. "In 1965 this cost has become $3,670,000 — a 12 fold increase," and further increases are imperative to underwrite the outdoor recreation program in the next decade.

The total program is divided into five categories, as follows: Fish—Proposed program will cost $49 million, of which only $12 million is available in foreseeable income.

"The Coho salmon, the steelhead, the Kokanee are going to require an entirely new hatchery and rearing pond program," Harris said. "Also, we are going to need installations entirely new to Michigan. The fisheries program must also continue stream improvement work. It must provide for purchase of critical water frontage on streams needing protection."

Game — Proposed program will cost $26 million, of which only $18 million is available now.

Additional public hunting lands are needed throughout the state, Harris said. "Scarce habitat lands for waterfowl and other species must be provided for now, before these areas are diverted to other uses."

Forest recreation — Proposed program will cost $7 million, of which only $250,000 is available now.

State parks — Proposed program will cost $110 million, of which only $39 million is now available. Michigan now has 67 state parks, "and not one is developed yet according to final plans."

Waterways and boating—Proposed program will cost $54 million of which only $19 million is now available.

Product Liability

There are exciting, disturbing new changes afoot in American law.

In the criminal law the U.S. Supreme Court has said that back room police station interrogation of suspects in criminal cases is coercive and won't do.

The decision, a logical step in the Supreme Court's progression in guaranteeing citizen rights to legal assistance and freedom from compulsion to testify against themselves, has been disturbing to police and prosecutors, and also to the public as it notes the rising crime rates.

In civil law there are also some explosive new elements. One of them was discussed in the recent U.P. Legal Institute at Escanaba. It is product liability.

About 15 states have now adopted this doctrine of strict liability. It means that if you make a faulty product and it hurts someone, just step up to the cashier's window in the court and prove the fault and injury and take home your money.

The implications of such law are tremendous, and yet the lawyers from Detroit who discussed product liability before the U.P. Bar agreed that these laws are apt to become widespread in the nation and even to be liberalized.

The trend of legal liberalism that has made workmen's compensation awards to persons injured in industrial plants while at horseplay has another expression here. It is another evidence of support by lawmakers of the new legal principle: Someone must pay.

Once accepted, this principle looks for the logical or proximate source of responsibility and—that failing—it looks beyond. Thus in the one car accident the automobile is alleged to be of faulty design or construction and the injured driver sues the manufacturer.

The basic principle is impressive. If a firm makes an automobile so deadly that it takes human lives, its manufacturers should not be beyond legal responsibility. But, having accepted this principle, the mischief that can be created by opening this legal door is enormous. And it has started, with 15 states permitting such suits, and more expected to follow.

The attorneys who described the implications noted that these suits tend to grow out of the accident in which there is no other source of legal recovery.

The shallow view of the problem is that the big manufacturers should pay if they make shoddy machines. But what of the little manufacturer who would be destroyed by a large damage award? This is an implication inherent in acceptance of this principle: it could be one more nail in the coffin of small enterprise.

It could be another incentive toward huge corporations which could bear such losses and pass them along to its customers in the form of higher prices—and this is the basic reasoning in the principle. It is proposed that it is more just to have manufacturers of the Schenkman Six pay for a broken neck than for the driver who suffered it to be billed, because his means are small and those of Schenkman Corp. are large.

Collections hinge on proof that the liable product was indeed faulty, but the suits entered to date indicate that this is most difficult to control and that such law stimulates the spirit of larceny.

The product liability law is as modern as mods and mini-skirts. If we're going to be hurt, someone must pay. Someone had better be insured. Someone had better have a good legal department.

It will work out, of course. The law has a way of doing that, or we couldn't have progressed to the affluence which lets states propose that manufacturers be liable for their products. And it can even do a service, of course, by making manufacturers more conscious of the penalties for selling faulty machines and other products.

But it opens a Pandora's Box of claims. The old doctrine of "Let the buyer beware" is passe. But he'll pay.

Health Aid

Billions for a cancer cure, but scarcely a cent toward preparing to get the cure to the public as rapidly as possible after it is found.

That in essence is the charge made by science writer Richard Carter, author of the highly praised "Breakthrough: The Saga of Jonas Salk."

According to Carter, it is taken for granted by medical scientists that a cure or preventive for one or more forms of cancer is not only inevitable but expected relatively soon.

Equally inevitable, he says, unless bold steps are taken, "is a state of administrative confusion that will result in hundreds, and possibly thousands, of unnecessary cancer deaths."

Government and private agencies have spent at least $2 billion on cancer research, says Carter, but little time and money have been given to modernize the public medical services essential to prompt distribution of a vaccine.

The same situation existed at the time of the discovery of the Salk polio vaccine in 1955. Thousands of Americans were needlessly stricken by the disease, he says, because of the weakness of the U. S. Public Health Service, which lacked the power to purchase and distribute the vaccine and mobilize state health departments and private physicians to get the job done.

The obstacle to strengthening of the Public Health Service, charges Carter, "has been and continues to be organized medicine," which believed that polio immunization could be carried out on an individual basis in the offices of private physicians.

"During the years of polio emergency, organized medicine fought bitterly and with great success against distribution of the vaccine through public health channels. Polio could have been eradicated in a year, but remained a killer for seven."

He says the same reasons account for the failure of millions to get the benefits of the new measles vaccines today and predicts that history will repeat itself when a cancer preventive becomes available.

President Johnson has called for reorganization of the Public Health Service, but Carter thinks Congress ought to extend this "to give the government genuine authority in the implementation of public health measures."

Many doctors will talk as kindly to Richard Carter's criticisms as the auto makers have to those of Ralph Nader but the charges they make deal with matters much too vital to be brushed aside.

LBJ's Strong Arm

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Though it is perhaps a little early to judge the "new mix" on President Johnson's White House staff, first indications are that it is dominated more than ever before by a high spirit of professionalism.

Long gone are John F. Kennedy's men, except for Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien, who continues to stand close to the President's side on many matters. Gone, too, are many of the original Johnson crew—men who walked in with him the day Kennedy was killed.

Though Bill D. Moyers lingers on as a prominent reminder of a different time, it is more sensible today to describe the staff as composed of "White House men." They are being judged as performers of work, not as Johnson loyalists.

The addition of foreign affairs specialist Walt Rostow and Robert Kintner, former network executive and an administrative expert, really gave the staff its new aspect. Kintner, particularly, is proving himself a workhorse of a professional. He is secretary of the cabinet, worries about interdepartmental and White House—departmental affairs, and labors hard at recruiting for top posts in government.

Rostow, in effect, has McGee Bundy's old job as "inside the building" foreign policy co-ordinator and adviser. Actually, says one presidential associate, the job has been "phased down considerably, since the President felt it had grown too big." But Rostow by all accounts is carrying a heavy load.

In the interim between Bundy's going and his coming, however, new foreign policy responsibilities fell upon the already overburdened Moyers, serving as press secretary and key counselor to the President. Moyers retains some of that portfolio, and today is unquestionably No. 1 on the staff. The old phrase, "first among equals," no longer applies. Status has its cost. The most durable rumors of staff friction seem to center on Moyers, and especially on his relations with Marvin Watson, the President's appointments secretary, political liaison man and office manager.

A presidential friend says flatly that the No. 2 White House man today is Joseph Califano, the Brooklyn-made rocket whom the President many months ago lifted from Defense Secretary McNamara's launching pad of bright young men.

Califano is the key man on top domestic issues, most importantly those having to do with economics—inflation, strikes, the bonds with labor and business. Fatigue may be getting some staff men, but he is still a Sunday worker. Papers in hand, he is probably the most familiar sight anywhere in the building.

His quick rise to prominence was possibly the turning point in the staff's move toward anonymous professionalism. From the outset, he exhibited a huge talent for getting on top of a problem immediately, marshaling the options for the President's consideration, and keeping his own balance.

When Johnson vested abundant confidence in Califano as a professional performer of crucial assignments, it was an unmistakable departure from his long reliance on the comfort of familiar Texans and trusted Kennedy holdovers like O'Brien—though that reliance continues.

Beyond Moyers and Califano, associates of the President find it hard to rank staff men. It is agreed newcomers Kintner and Rostow figure large in the scheme of things, but more time will be needed to measure them.

Special counsel Harry McPherson, replacement for Lee White, now chairman of the Federal Power Commission, appears to be cutting a wide path. Jake Jacobsen is reported as handling well his duties in congressional liaison.

As always, Johnson keeps his key aides busy switch-hitting. There are no hard jurisdictional lines. Titles mean little. They are given new content with each change in staff make-up.

Change has produced a staff that today is weighed mostly in the scale of professional competence. Yet that does not mean all zip and color are drained away.

Even if that were to happen, the President has his insurance policy—constant visits and colorful, meaty counsel from such favored "outside insiders" as McNamara and O'Brien. The popular O'Brien is perched near Johnson's personal summit, and seems likely to stay there no matter who sits at what desks in White House staff offices.

People, Events Of Yesteryears

10 YEARS AGO

Four Luther League Caravaners, who form one of eight teams selected by the Board of Youth Activities of Augustana Lutheran Church to conduct workshops in the United States and Canada, were at Bethany Lutheran Church in Escanaba July 2-6.

"As brave as anyone is Randy Formenti, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Formenti of 1711 9th Ave. S., who goes up the ladder of one of the highest slides at Camp Harstad. Randy has been blind since birth and this is his first season at camp. Standing below the ladder, is Pat Miron, a counselor."

25 YEARS AGO

Leading the circuit and intent on continuing so, the Escanaba Rainbow League invaded Negaunee for a tilt.

H. E. England of Kenosha, Wis., R. E. Nyland of Iron Mountain and H. C. Jacobs of Escanaba have accepted positions as Moore operators at the Western Union office here.

Stanton Abrahamson, who has been stationed with the U.S. Marine Corps in Pearl Harbor, Hawaii for the past six months, arrived from Newport R.I. to spend a six day furlough. Stanton, "an outstanding high school athlete several years ago," was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanton E. Abrahamson, 1314 3rd Ave. S.

The Cleveland Browns football team fumbled only eight times during their entire 1959 season.

10 Minutes Exposure Enough

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstedt

Q—What are the symptoms of vitamin D poisoning? Could cod liver oil cause hardening of the arteries?

A—Excessive amounts of vitamin D cause a loss of appetite, apathy, nausea, weakness, headache and a great thirst. The preferred treatment is disodium or dipotassium phosphate. Autopsy on some of those who have died of this disease showed severe hardening of the arteries and it is reasonable to believe that a cause and effect relationship existed in these cases. The daily requirement of this vitamin is 400 units but you can get this with 10 minutes of exposure of a small area of your skin to direct sunlight daily.

Q—Is vitamin A good for the eyes? What vitamins benefit arthritis?

A—Vitamin A is necessary for good vision, especially at night. There is no vitamin or any other dietary component that will specifically help your arthritis.

Q—I read recently that vitamin B-6 does wonders for various ailments. Is this so? Has the need for calcium pantheon in human nutrition been firmly established?

A—Vitamin B-6 (pyridoxine) is found in meat and whole grain cereals. It is important for the health of your teeth, gums, blood vessels, red blood cells and nervous system. It works wonders for anyone who, through a faulty diet, has developed a deficiency of this vitamin.

The need for pantothenic acid or its calcium salt (also a part of the vitamin B complex) in making the adrenal hormones, in producing antibodies and in the health of the nervous system has been firmly established.

Q—What is nicotinic acid good for? Is it a vitamin? Is it safe to take it for a long time?

A—Nicotin or nicotinic acid is a part of the vitamin B complex. It is needed in the transformation of food into energy and in the prevention of pellagra. It has also been used in large doses to reduce the blood cholesterol level. It can be taken safely for an indefinite period.

Q—What was the Keeley cure for alcoholics? Was it effective?

A—The alcoholic voluntarily entered one of the Keeley Institutes (founded in 1879) where he was free to come and go at will. The stay was usually two or four weeks. Although moderate cigar and pipe smoking were allowed, cigarettes were forbidden. Coffee drinking was limited. Various drugs were used; exercise was encouraged and counseling was given.

Although many alcoholics underwent a remarkable rehabilitation at the institutes, there were relapses. The institutes did, however, wage a successful battle to promote the idea, now widely accepted, that alcoholism is a disease. The last of these institutes closed its doors in June of this year.

HIGH COST OF LIVING

An article which appeared Monday, June 20 by Mrs. Lloyd Brannstrom in Letters to the Press confirms my belief that the cost of living in the U. P. is too high, when a person has to pay six cents for a paper cup of water.

I am proud that she expressed her opinion in the Press.

Supposing someone was choking to death in a car and the father or mother didn't have the six cents for a paper cup of water?

NOT SO EASY

A recent drowning has awakened me to an important and often overlooked fact. I am referring to the awesome duties of a lifeguard. Those drownings occurred after beach hours, but think of the great responsibility connected with watching over swarms of children when the beach is open! I am sure a lifeguard takes it as his public and personal duty to protect each one.

Many think this job of being a lifeguard and "lulling in the sun all summer" is the easiest job there is. But how many would truly want the responsibility of so many human lives on their hands? Next time you have a smart remark to make about this "easy" job—think! And then thank God that there are some skilled enough and brave enough to handle this job. Don't make it any harder by being careless and senseless in the water.

Dear Ann Landers: I know you receive many letters from unwed mothers because you have printed them. Why don't you ever publish a letter from an unwed father?

You, Ann Landers, have done more to damage the image of the unwed father than anyone in this country and I resent it. My son is a lovely young man, just 19 years of age, and every time you print a letter from an unwed mother he shows it to me and says, "Why doesn't Ann Landers ever say anything good about US—we have a side, too."

Are you so blind that you don't realize some girls run after boys, pester them, get them full of liquor and then offer themselves in such a way that no male could refuse? This is exactly what happened to my son, and to some of his fine friends, too. Yet the boy always gets called the terrible names and ends up with a black eye. I dare you to print this. — MOTHER OF A GOOD SON

Dear Mother: I have yet to hear from an unwed mother who wouldn't cheerfully take the black eye in exchange for what she gets left with.

Sorry that I don't have any good conduct medals lying around for the unwed fathers. And I don't have any advice for them, either. They don't need my list of maternity homes. They can go right on living as they always have—continuing at their jobs or remaining in school.

Unfortunately, when a foolish young couple decides to "Have fun now—Pay later," it's the female who does the paying.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a salesman in a large department store. Like most salesmen of major items (furniture, rugs, jewelry, refrigerators, stoves, etc.) I work on commission.

Last week I spent the better part of two days with three couples. They asked dozens of questions, which I was happy to answer. That's what I'm here for. I gave them my card and said if they decided to buy I'd be happy to help them.

At the end of the week I followed up by telephoning these couples and all three told me they had been in the store and bought the item from someone who just happened to be standing there. They all added, "You aren't on commission are you?"

Well, on behalf of most salesmen of major items, I'd like to say "I AM on commission. This is how I make my living. When I spend hours with a customer I expect him to return to me if he decides to buy."

Thank you, Ann Landers, for letting me have my say.—NO SALE

Dear No: You just made a very nice sale, my friend. You got your message before the eyes of millions of customers.

And now I'd like to add a word: When a salesman hands you a card, that's the hint and here's the message: "I have time and energy invested in you. If you return to buy, I hope you will remember to ask for me."

Dear Ann Landers: My mother and dad were a grand couple. Mother passed away last November.

Fifteen years ago, when Dad was in his early fifties he had a torrid affair with a married woman who lives in this city. She was well-known and it was an unpleasant, gossiping sort of thing that hurt Mother deeply.

The other woman is a widow now and dad has taken her to dinner a few times. We just learned of his renewed interest. Naturally, we are furious. Mother forgave him but we can't. Any advice? — DAUGHTERS

Dear Daughters: If your mother forgave him you CAN—and you should. Life is for the living.

Unsure of yourself on dates? What's right? What's wrong? Should you? Shouldn't you? Send for Ann Landers' booklet "Dating Do's and Don'ts" enclosing with your request 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Forced Anti-Smog Devices Called Hoax

DETROIT (AP) — The trade publication Automotive News has described as "a monstrous hoax" a new federal law requiring that anti-smog devices be installed on all cars starting in 1968.

Joseph M. Callahan, the paper's engineering editor, claimed the exhaust emission control devices will "do little to help" air pollution problems.

He estimated the devices will average about $45 a car.

"Assuming that as many cars are sold in 1968 as were sold in 1965, the total basic cost of these exhaust control devices would be $417 million each year," he wrote.

"The American people will find they are being victimized in a multi-billion dollar smog hoax—a hoax that will be perpetrated on every future car buyer beginning with 1968 models, under a new U.S. law.

Clean Air Bill

"This hoax is so monstrous and so ridiculous that most intelligent people just will not believe that it will happen.

"But it will happen because of the Clean Air Bill of 1965, passed largely through the efforts of Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, with the vigorous backing of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare."

Callahan, generally recognized as one of the auto industry's top technical writers, said, "The auto makers despite their protests, are now being compelled to spend millions to tool up and prepare to install these exhaust controls on the 1968s and all future cars."

Callahan conceded that California, which put into effect last year a law requiring installation of anti-smog devices on all new cars, has a serious smog problem.

Engine Changes

Callahan said the auto industry has sought ways of reducing the amount of unburned hydrocarbons which pour out of auto exhaust systems.

"The big gains in the reduction of noxious emissions from car engines are being made by redesigning combustion chambers. But other gains are coming from changes in timing, improved carburetors, changes in valve and changes in the bore-stroke relationships," he said.

Fish May Die With Skeeters

LANSING — Michigan residents who are thinking about spraying their lands for mosquito control this summer are warned by the Conservation Department that their selection and methods of applying pesticides may be a life or death matter for fish and other aquatic animals.

The Department's cautioning

Jaycees Cheer Romney-Nixon

DETROIT (AP) — The scene in Detroit's Cobo Hall Monday could well have been a preview of the 1968 Republican convention.

More than 10,000 delegates and guests to the National Jaycees Convention whooped it up in the mammoth, pennant-decorated hall.

An organist played as first Michigan Gov. George Romney and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon strode into the spotlight.

They have been mentioned frequently as possible Republican presidential nominees in 1968.

Both wasted little time in teasing off on President Johnson's Democratic administration and its domestic policies. Nixon had some kind words and some critical words on foreign policy, notably Viet Nam.

Florida Moms Send Popcorn To Servicemen

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Popcorn is what American servicemen in Viet Nam long for, says the Clearwater Navy Mothers Club.

The club endorsed its "Project Popcorn" and make plans to ship to Viet Nam plastic bags containing enough popcorn to satisfy 30 servicemen.

Tombstone Kills

LEOMINSTER, Mass. (AP) — Joseph D. Gillis, 57, was killed when a tombstone fell on him. Dr. Charles Wheeler, medical examiner, said Gillis was asphyxiated Sunday by a 200-pound tombstone he grabbed when he lost his balance while walking in Pine Grove Cemetery. The stone fell on the man's chest, Dr. Wheeler said.

Copper Quotas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commerce Department said Monday it will continue export quotas on copper and copper products through the second half of this year because of short supplies both in the United States and abroad.

The quotas were first established late in 1965.

comments are prompted by a rash of fish kills in which such spraying is strongly suspected as the cause.

The Department, which itself recently adopted a strict pesticide policy to take a lead role in curbing environmental pollution, is particularly urging Michigan landholders and lake-front owners to leave DDT high on the shelf.

This highly toxic, persistent chemical has been ominously linked with wildlife die-offs throughout the world. The Department, under its new program, has halted use of DDT in mosquito and fly control at state parks.

"While DDT is the most potent threat to wildlife as far as pesticides are concerned, other types can be just as deadly for aquatic life when their spray solutions hit lakes and streams," warns Paul R. Flink, one of the Department's pesticide advisors.

"This means," he stresses, "that all chemicals, even such relatively mild pesticides as malathion and methoxychlor, must be carefully applied to prevent their drifting into nearby bodies of water."

One way to reduce the risk of pesticide "fallout" over water is to use hydraulic power sprayers rather than mist blowers, according to Flink.

Compared with mist blowers, power sprayers shoot out rather large drops of water-nixed pesticides which have less chance of drifting. Also, these devices literally "dilute" the threat of dangerous side-effects to wildlife by using more water in their spraying than mist blowers.

Hoping to help Michigan residents stay on the safe side this summer, Flink is suggesting that they write to the Department of Entomology, Michigan State University, for more information on the control of mosquitoes and other pests.

The MSU Department has published a free bulletin on the subject which, among other things, points out that much can be done to control mosquitoes without endangering wildlife by pesticide fallout.

One suggestion is to keep lawns mowed, weeds cut, shrubbery properly pruned, and low-hanging branches on trees trimmed. Also eliminate standing water in pools, rain gutters, and other spots which attract mosquitoes.

India's Sadhus, Yogis Are Riled

NEW DELHI, India (AP) —

The bearded and sometimes naked holy men who wander through India's humid jungles and dusty plains have splashed into a challenging controversy. These yogis and sadhus, as the holy men are called, have come under considerable pressure to prove they have the mysterious powers often attributed to them.

The biggest splash in the whole affair came in Bombay where one of India's better known yogis, L. S. Rao, advertised he would walk on water before a select crowd that had paid to see the miracle. Rao sank like a rock in his specially made tank and surfaced sputtering, water dripping from his tangled beard and uncut locks.

Prime Minister Indira Gandhi was asked at a news conference the next day if she believed in water-walking sadhus. She shook her head no. Exponents of yoga — the art of the yogis — were outraged.

Uses Brick To Dim Headlights, Will Pay Damage

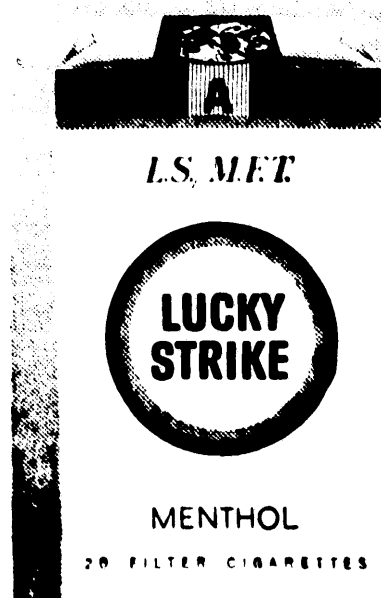

ST. JOSEPH (AP) — Ever want to stop and do something about that guy who keeps following and following, his bright lights ablaze?

Well, Berrien County sheriff's deputies say John Tischerhart of nearby Coloma did.

Deputies said Tischerhart finally stopped and flogged down bright lights, asking him to please dim. Bright lights said no, whereupon Tischerhart applied an automatic dimmer — namely brick — to all four headlights.

Bright lights complained. Tischerhart told deputies to forget it, he'd pay for his dimming damage.

Forced Anti-Smog Devices Called Hoax

DETROIT (AP) — The trade publication Automotive News has described as "a monstrous hoax" a new federal law requiring that anti-smog devices be installed on all cars starting in 1968.

Joseph M. Callahan, the paper's engineering editor, claimed the exhaust emission control devices will "do little to help" air pollution problems.

He estimated the devices will average about $45 a car.

"Assuming that as many cars are sold in 1968 as were sold in 1965, the total basic cost of these exhaust control devices would be $417 million each year," he wrote.

"The American people will find they are being victimized in a multi-billion dollar smog hoax—a hoax that will be perpetrated on every future car buyer beginning with 1968 models, under a new U.S. law.

Clean Air Bill

"This hoax is so monstrous and so ridiculous that most intelligent people just will not believe that it will happen.

"But it will happen because of the Clean Air Bill of 1965, passed largely through the efforts of Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, with the vigorous backing of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare."

Callahan, generally recognized as one of the auto industry's top technical writers, said, "The auto makers despite their protests, are now being compelled to spend millions to tool up and prepare to install these exhaust controls on the 1968s and all future cars."

Callahan conceded that California, which put into effect last year a law requiring installation of anti-smog devices on all new cars, has a serious smog problem.

Engine Changes

Callahan said the auto industry has sought ways of reducing the amount of unburned hydrocarbons which pour out of auto exhaust systems.

"The big gains in the reduction of noxious emissions from car engines are being made by redesigning combustion chambers. But other gains are coming from changes in timing, improved carburetors, changes in valve and changes in the bore-stroke relationships," he said.

Northern Opens Center

Deprived Women Arrive

The nation's 11th Women's Job Corps Center—and the first to be operated by a university—was opened Tuesday with the arrival at Northern Michigan University of the first contingent of enrollees.

On hand to meet them were Dr. Bennetta B. Washington, national director of Women's Job Corps Centers from Washington, D. C.

Today about 50 enrollees were to have begun training under the largest grant in the history of NMU. By late August the center is expected to have a full complement of 300 trainees.

The U. S. Office of Economic Opportunity last February approved a $2,725,000 grant to NMU for preparation and operation of the center for 17 months. The contract can be extended annually for four additional years.

At a press conference with Dr. Edgar L. Harden, NMU president, Dr. Washington said: "There are 10 Job Corps Centers for women operating in hotels and in former Veterans Administration facilities, where there are campus-like settings, but this center is our first venture in training young women in an actual university environment."

"Richer University" "Here the young women will be able to live and learn among peers who have been much more fortunate than they. I believe that the university, its faculty and students will be that much richer for subsequent interaction with the Job Corps program here."

Enrollees will be women between 16 and 21 years of age, most of them school dropouts and all of them from economically deprived families. They will come from all sections of the nation, and included among them will be whites, American Indians from reservations, Negroes and Spanish-speaking women. "Their only common denominator will be their economic deprivation," Dr. Washington said.

They may remain at the center for as long as two years, but most of them will graduate in a year or less.

Dr. Washington said they will receive training in graphic arts, drafting and design, distribution and sales, tailoring and alterations, business occupations, electronic data processing and as nurses aides and food service aides. The enrollees also will receive courses in health education and home and family life and will be actively participating in individual and group counseling.

Medical Care They will receive an allowance, work clothes, board and room and medical and dental care.

The women will be housed in dormitories on the campus and will receive instruction in classrooms in the former Birds Eye Veneer Co. plant north of the campus, which has been purchased by NMU.

Upon graduation, NMU will help the women find jobs. "We have had many inquiries from business and industrial officials as to the availability of these graduates for employment," Dr. Harden said. "We expect cooperation in this area from Operation Action—U. P. and the Upper Peninsula Committee for Area Progress."

Dr. Washington said more than 80 per cent of those who have enrolled in Women's Job Corps since the program started in April 1965 have completed their training, some in as little as three months.

Enrollees are recruited through the assistance of Women in Community Service (WICS) and are accepted into the program on the basis of 14 criteria, the foremost of which is the employment level of the family.

About Failure

Asked about the Women's Job Corps Center in St. Petersburg, Fla., which was the first established in the nation and which was closed last month in the face of severe community criticism, Dr. Washington said: "Some of the strongest support we had anywhere in the nation was in St. Petersburg, but there also were powerful groups in the community who felt the community had all the problems it could absorb without the Job Corps."

The 284 women in the St. Petersburg program were transferred to other Job Corps Centers.

"There's no comparison between the environment here and in Florida," Dr. Washington remarked. "The university here has had more experience with this kind of problem than any university I can think of."

Dr. Harden noted that each of the churches in Marquette had devoted one Sunday to explaining the Job Corps program to its members, and Dr. Bert Jones, director of the center, said the Marquette Clergy Council has chosen the Job Corps program as its No. 1 project of the year.

Women's Job Corps Centers are located in Poland Spring, Maine (the largest, with 1,080 enrollees); Albuquerque; Cleveland; Los Angeles; Charleston, W. Va.; Clinton, Iowa (opened last week); and five other cities. Dr. Washington said plans call for having a total of 15 such centers under contract by June 30.

Children Inspect Farm In Schaffer

Sixty-five children enrolled at the Webster Reading Center enjoyed a visit to the Louis Butryn farm at Schaffer where they saw a large herd of Hereford cattle and rode around the farm on a hay rack pulled by a tractor. One of the exciting parts was crossing Ten Mile Creek with the wagon. Some of the children rode a homemade cable car across the river and some had a ride in a car made with a tractor motor.

They saw Mr. Butryn spray the plants and learned why this had to be done. They were allowed to pick strawberries and use a pump for water.

It was a new experience for over 50 per cent of the children and a learning experience to the entire group including the teachers. Ruth Sedenquist, Amanda Ryan and Leona Erickson and teacher aide, Karen Pinozek.

The Senior Citizens hosted, together with their wives and guests, were Art Aronson, Henry Nelson, Rev. Karl Hammar, David Speck, Walter Pearson, Rudy Smith, Walter Wickert, John Bartella, Carl Wickman, Art Moberg and Miss Florence

British Tanker Explodes Again; Four More Die

NEW YORK (AP) — Like a deadly echo of disaster, the volatile cargo of a British tanker has again exploded and burned in New York harbor, adding at least four deaths to the toll of 33 in a harbor collision June 16.

This time the 11,252-ton Alva Cape was stricken at anchor off Brooklyn, while the remains of its naphtha cargo were being removed.

A new flash of flame seared the Alva Cape's already scarred hull Tuesday and there was fear of a greater disaster until a tug bravely pushed the barge unloading the naphtha away from the flames.

Besides the four known dead in Tuesday's explosion, nine were injured and three were missing.

News of the new disaster was carried to a Coast Guard inquiry seeking the cause of the Alva Cape's June 16 collision with the American tanker Texaco Massachusetts in the Kill Van Kull between New Jersey and Staten Island. The inquiry was suspended when the word was received.

Newman, and Emil Christensen.

Lt. Richard Meyers conducted the two hour bus tour of the base and there was on 8 o'clock dinner at the officers club.

Mead Reports Its Expansions

New Methods, Machines

Mead Corp. has sent copies of its 1965-66 Progress Report to all its more than 20,000 employees telling how the company did in the past year and about its plans for the future.

The copies to Escanaba Division employees of Mead report efforts of the big paper making firm to maintain its position of leadership in the national and international paper markets, and also the contest within the corporation to get shares of its growth program.

Although it is not stated in the report, these go to areas which can put together attractive packages of raw materials, labor, market accessibility, and other factors. The areas of big spending indicate to other areas the challenges that they face to get increasing industrial investment in their own areas.

Age is sometimes regarded as a warranty for industrial confidence, but Mead announced this week that it was closing its 86-year-old Leominster, Mass., Division employing 140 persons because the plant could no longer compete successfully with more modern facilities.

Top Projects

J. W. McSwiney, executive vice president of Mead, tells its management's aims for tomorrow in the Mead Report, ticking off the firm's most important projects:

1. New packaging plant opened in Chicago.
2. First production coming this summer of 650 tons a day of pulp in a new mill in British Columbia's spruce forests with a continuous digester — the first in any Mead mill. There'll be a nearly steady flow of pulp from chips to dry sheet in this mill.

3. Kingsport, Tennessee's No. 5 machine is ready for full production of as much as 30 miles of paper an hour in 16-foot wide sheets.

4. The new Mahrt kraft containerboard mill is going up south of Phenix City, Ala. It will turn out 800 tons of board a day from a single machine.

5. A big new container plant is coming into production in Edison Township, N.J., with a 96-inch wide corrugator, the most modern in the industry.

6. Mead Merchant Group has new office and warehouse facilities in Salt Lake City, Colorado Springs, Grand Rapids, Nashville, and Indianapolis.

7. Overseas, a new paper mill at Virginal, Belgium, a new packaging plant in Roosendaal, The Netherlands.

McSwiney said "We must also maintain our old plants to keep them in business. Last year we plowed $34 million into plant modernization and construction. This includes the Kingsport machine, but neither the Alabama nor British Columbia mill."

Computer Operation

"With our basic products — paper and paperboard, cartons and containers — we know that many other companies can make satisfactory and competitive goods. Marketing is the way we can lift Mead above the average, adding something to help the customer really fulfill his needs."

"A year ago Mead Containers introduced two new cost systems which use computers to handle the tremendous amount of information necessary to tell us accurately how to make any order in the most profitable and efficient way and which orders and accounts and mixture of products will prove the best business for us in the long run. Many people think these are the most advanced systems in our industry, or maybe in any industry."

American Motors Ends 1966 Year

KENOSHA, Wis. (AP) — American Motors Corp. announced that most of the employees at the firm's plants in Milwaukee and Kenosha will be laid off this week when assembly on 1966 auto bodies is completed.

Assembly output at the Milwaukee body plant will be completed today, and at the two Kenosha plants, Thursday. Engine production will be completed in Kenosha by July 8.

About 4,000 of 5,000 employees at the Milwaukee body plant will be laid off, and about 7,000 of 9,100 in Kenosha. They will also return to work in early August when phase-in production of 1967 models begins. The lay-off period would include employees' two week vacations.

Inter-American Meet Uncertain

WASHINGTON (AP) — Diplomatic sources said today the overthrow of the Argentine government places in doubt the holding of an inter-American conference in Buenos Aires starting Aug. 29.

Only Monday the council of the Organization of American States picked that date for the meeting, one of whose purposes would be shoring up constitutional government in the hemisphere.

Prison Chaplain Goes To Saginaw

MARQUETTE (AP) — The Rev. Malcolm Maloney, for eight years Catholic chaplain at Marquette State prison, has been named pastor of St. Joseph's parish in Saginaw. Father Maloney will be replaced at the prison by the Rev. Leander Wick, of Menominee Falls, Wis., who has been in charge of clinical pastoral training at the Wisconsin School For Boys in Wales, Wis. Father Maloney also has been in charge of St. Fidelis Friday at Marquette.

AIRMAN Michael J. Eugate Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Eugate Sr., Rte. 1, Gladstone, has been selected for technical training at Lowry AFB, Colo., as a U.S. Air Force munitions specialist. He recently completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex. Airmen Eugate graduated from Escanaba Area High School in 1965.

AMA Head Is Infected By Political Bug

CHICAGO (AP) — The gray-haired, soft-voiced man who will guide the nation's physicians for the next year has been infected with a new "bug" — the bug of politics.

Dr. Charles L. Hudson of Cleveland, who took office Tuesday as president of the American Medical Association, says: "I subscribe to the idea of encouraging the bright young minds that come into our profession to take more interest in politics than physicians have in the past."

In an interview prior to his inauguration, the specialist in internal medicine said the concept of physicians in public office is new to him, as it is to many doctors, but intriguing.

Would he consider running for office if encouraged by political leaders in his community?

"I haven't thought about it as a personal thing until just recently," said Hudson, "but it wouldn't be objectionable to me."

"The idea ran through my head for the first time when I was listening to Mr. Nixon and Dr. Appel urge physicians to seek office," he added.

He was born in Merrill, Mich., and took his medical degree at the University of Michigan in 1930. In addition to practicing as a member of the Department of Internal Medicine of the Cleveland Clinic, he is associate clinical professor in medicine at Western Reserve University in Cleveland.

The port of Rotterdam, in the Netherlands, is a busy one; a ship arrives there every 18 minutes.

Retardation Is Field For New U Of M Institute

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The University of Michigan Board of Regents have authorized the creation of an institute for the study of mental retardation.

William M. Cruickshank, professor of education and psychology at Syracuse University, was named director of the new institute, effective Feb. 1, 1967.

The institute will be operated in conjunction with the university's medical center. Construction of facilities is not expected to begin for several years.

The institute will train educators, psychologists, nurses, social workers and other people in the care of mentally retarded persons and will conduct research.

A university spokesman said the school hoped to obtain federal funds to help finance the new project.

Americans Spend $3.1 Billion For Foreign Travel

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commerce Department says that Americans spent more than $3.1 billion in foreign countries and for transportation on foreign ship and air lines during 1965.

Officials expect this figure to climb even higher this year.

This spending by a record number of Americans traveling overseas and in Canada and in Mexico was more than enough to push last year's balance of payments picture into the red.

Since foreign visitors spent slightly under $1.4 billion in the United States last year and for transportation to this country aboard U.S. ship and air lines, the travel deficit alone reached $1.74 billion, the department added.

The entire deficit in the U.S. balance of payments last year was $1.35 billion.

Lake Cargoes At Nine-Year High

CLEVELAND (AP) — Record shipments of iron ore, coal and grain over the Great Lakes in May put totals so far this season at a nine-year high.

Oliver T. Burnham, Lake Carriers' Association Secretary, announced May shipments amounted to 21,040,071 net tons, a six-year record.

It compared with 22 million tons moved in May 1960 and 20.5 million tons hauled a year ago. May ore shipments reached 10,348,041 gross tons, up from the 9,545,295 tons a year ago. Coal cargoes dropped to 6,689,413 net tons from 6,940,147 tons in 1965. The grain movement was 2,781,832 tons, down 76,659 tons from last year.

The grand total of these bulk commodities transported as of June 1 was 35,511,620 tons, the highest since 1957 when 36,304,305 tons were moved in the first five months of the year.

Food Poisoning: A Problem Every Summer

Each year thousands of people in the United States suffer needless discomfort and disability because of food poisoning — a relatively common, but generally preventable disease that reaches its peak during the hot summer months.

A high percentage of food poisoning originates from hands that are not absolutely clean. Even hands that look clean may harbor millions of germs that are capable of contaminating an entire platter of food and making a whole family ill.

Therefore, the first step in prevention of food poisoning is to maintain "hospital-clean hands" for everyone who prepares or serves food. This will prevent harmful germs from contaminating food and poisoning the intestinal tract.

Keeping fingernails clean is important, too. And anyone with a skin infection anywhere on the hands is advised to avoid handling food until the infection is cleared up.

In addition to maintaining clean hands and fingernails, every member of the family should be instructed to take special care when storing leftovers. The U. S. Public Health Service advises housewives to refrigerate food promptly, even if it is still warm. This applies especially to foods which consist in whole or in part of milk, eggs, meat, poultry, and fish (including shellfish), as well as cream pies, custards and such salads as potato, chicken and tuna fish.

Picnic foods should be as nonperishable as possible. The Public Health Service also advises using a portable cooler for salads and other perishable foods. Do not let the cooler sit for long periods with the top off, and always try to place it in a cool spot such as under the picnic table or in the shade of a tree.

Plans Complete For Episcopal Women's Meet

Plans have been completed for the annual conference of Episcopal Churchwomen to be held at the Page Conference Center at Little Lake, July 5-7, according to Mrs. James Fyvie, Manistique, President.

Mrs. Georgia Newcomer of Phoenix, Ariz., will be the special speaker. The Rt. Rev. George R. Selway, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Northern Michigan, will serve as Conference Chaplain.

Mrs. Newcomer has served her church in many capacities from the parish to the national level. She has been president of the Women of her Diocese and of her Province and has also held several positions on the General Division of Women's Work. She will speak on the total life of the Christian woman in the home, parish and community.

Registrations for the conference should be sent to Mrs. Lloyd W. Howe, Diocesan Women's Treasurer, in Marquette by July 2. The sessions will open with luncheon at 12:30 on July 5 and close with luncheon on July 7.

NECTARINE BOWL

A bowl of fresh nectarines makes a colorful summer table centerpiece. For dessert, just let everyone help himself to a nectarine and an assortment of cheese and crackers.

Wrap yams with foil and bake in hot coals for an hour or so. The yams will taste good with ham slices that are being grilled over the charcoal fire.

Miss Linda Kay Lucas of Garden became the bride of Marshal Earl Patz of Flint in a ceremony at the St. John the Baptist Church in Garden on May 28.

Mrs. Ronald Bassett officiated at the double ring nuptials at 4:30 in the afternoon. Baskets of multi-colored daisies adorned the altars of the church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Lucas Jr. of Garden and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Patz of 917 W. Elk St., Manistique.

The bride made her wedding gown of white slipper satin lined with acetate and designed with a fitted bodice, shell neckline and long tapered sleeves. Swiss embroidered lace roses were applied on the skirt and the detachable chapel train was attached by a self bow at the waist.

Clusters of roses and seed pearls held her bouffant veil of illusion and she carried a single long stemmed red rose. Maid of honor was Penny Farley of Garden and serving as bestman was Wayne Patz of Manistique. Seating the guests were Rodney Lucas and Ronald Olson.

Miss Farley was attired in a floor length gown of two tone rose and pink rayon crepe fashioned with a bateau neckline dipping in the back. A matching bow headpiece held her veil of nylon tulle and she carried a bouquet of pink daisies.

Mrs. Lucas chose for her daughter's wedding a jacket dress of light pink rayon georgette over rayon and acetate with a matching hat and white shoes, gloves and purse. A corsage of pink and white rosebuds completed her attire.

Mrs. Patz wore a street length dress of variegating shades of mint green with a matching small flowered hat and veil and bone accessories. She was presented a corsage of pink rosebuds.

A buffet dinner was held immediately following the ceremony at the St. John's Hall.

The bride is a 1966 graduate of Garden High School and Mr. Patz graduated from Manistique High School in 1965. They will make their home at E. Atterton Rd., Flint.

Out of town guests attended from Gulliver, Foster City, Iron Mountain, Crystal Falls, Perronville, Norway, Felch, Manistique, Brampton, Lansing, Wisconsin Rapids and Menasha.

Proposed Downtown Parking Areas

TWO DOWNTOWN parking areas proposed for development in Escanaba are outlined in white in this aerial photo of a six-block section of the main business district. The smaller area, left, is located behind the Montgomery Ward store and would adjoin a small lot not currently in use and occupy about one quarter block on the corner of 1st Ave., N., and N. 12th St. The large area, right, is behind The Fair Store between N. 11th and N. 12th streets, the alley and 1st Ave., N. Ludington St. runs across the center of the photo. City Hall and the City Hall parking lot are visible in the lower right hand corner of the photo. Streets running vertically on the picture are, from left, 13th, 12th, 11th and 10th. The City Council has authorized City Manager George Harvey to retain two appraisers to determine cost of purchasing property for the proposed parking lots. (Lee's Studio).

Computers Help Develop State's Recreation Plan

EAST LANSING (AP)—Computers are going to work to make it easier in future years to find a good fishing spot, a pleasant beach, a less crowded campground or just a free picnic table on Sunday.

computers to help develop a state-wide recreation plan for Michigan.

He feels the method will save time and money on answering supply and demand questions about recreation in the future.

Chubb has divided recreation into driving for pleasure, swimming, sight-seeing, picnicking, walking and riding, fishing, boating, hunting, camping, winter sports, watching outdoor events, and playing sports.

Currently he is working on boating, hunting, camping, win-ber of "boats-days" now available in the state and the number that will be needed in the future to meet the demands of boaters.

"Boat-days" are figured according to information on boats, boaters, lakes and so on, for each county.

The information, he said, should help Michigan's Conservation Department prepare a state-wide recreation plan, which it must do to continue receiving federal aid to state and local outdoor recreation.

Army Cemetery In State Asked

WASHINGTON — Congressman Raymond F. Clevenger has urged that a national cemetery be established in Michigan for the convenience of Michigan veterans and their families.

Testifying before the House Veterans' Affairs Committee, Clevenger said the proposed national cemetery at Fort Custer Military Reservation near Battle Creek "would reflect the nation's gratitude to the veterans who are presently denied, by inconvenience, the tribute represented by access to a national cemetery."

He said that there is no national cemetery in Michigan or the states surrounding it.

The Fort Custer proposal calls for use of a tract of about 700 acres in the northwest part of the reservation. Already located there is a Post Military Cemetery.

Of the 4,438 graves in the cemetery, only 130 have been used. Nearby is a Post Chapel.

The Social Security law became effective Jan. 1, 1937.

General Chosen Junta Leader

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Lt. Gen. Juan Carlos Onganía, a former army chief, is to be sworn in today as head of a new military regime which hopes to win over some of the Argentine masses still loyal to Juan D. Peron.

Onganía, 52, was picked by a three-man military junta made up of the present commanders of the army, navy and air force. They took control Tuesday after the army overthrew the civilian government of President Arturo Illia in a bloodless overnight coup.

The military gave no indication how long it intends to remain in power. Veteran observers predicted it will be several years before it permits election of another civilian regime.

The military, which overthrew Peron and sent him into exile in 1955, is determined to prevent the Peronists from returning to power. Its chief grievance against Illia was his failure to reduce the strength of Peron's followers, who won control of three of Argentina's 22 provinces in recent elections and probably would have won Buenos Aires Province in elections next month.

The junta said it plans sweeping economic, political and social reforms aimed at wooing Argentines away from Peronism. An estimated 20 to 30 percent of Argentina's 12 million voters still recall with longing the benefits Peron gave them during his nine-year dictatorship.

The military said two of its main aims are "rebuilding Argentina's prestige abroad and modernizing the country."

Military sources said Onganía plans to streamline the cabinet traditionally made up of eight ministers and 12 secretaries. They indicated he will not name a defense minister or secretaries for the three armed forces. This would leave the army, navy and air force chiefs who make up the junta in complete charge of their respective services.

Drills Define Dolomite Resource

Pt. Patterson Quarry Progresses

BY ROSE LACHAPPELLE

GOULD CITY — The Joy Drilling Co. moved drilling equipment into the Wilmot Field area of Simmons Woods this week to continue its exploration of the dolomite bedrock in this area north of Point Patterson on Lake Michigan in Western Mackinac County.

Bethlehem Steel Co. is interested in the area as possible site of a commercial quarry for the production of dolomite for the steel industry and for other uses. Steel makers use dolomite and limestone for a flux or slagging agent. Its function is to combine with the undesirable silica in iron ore by forming calcium silicate or slag.

The Upper Peninsula's south shore on Lake Michigan and Lake Huron is site of several large stone quarries. That of Inland Lime & Stone Co. is at Port Inland, only a few miles from the exploration area of Bethlehem Steel Co. at Point Patterson, that of U. S. Steel Corp. is at Cedarville and that of Drummond Dolomite is on Drummond Island at the mouth of the St. Mary's River. All produce dolomite except Inland, which produces limestone.

Dolomite is a stone with calcium magnesium carbonate chemical composition and limestone is principally calcium carbonate, lacking the magnesium. The properties of both stones are valuable in industry.

Bethlehem has made no public announcement of its exploration project at Point Patterson, but drills of its contractors have been busy there since June 1.

Joy Drilling Co. of Michigan City, Ind., has one drill operating two shifts and another starting. The project is south of Blaney Park Junction on US-2 and in adjoining Simmons Woods, where two months of drilling have been reported projected.

The project has caused great interest and hope in the area from Manistiquette east because of the economic benefits that have been created by the other quarry operations along the Upper Peninsula's shores.

The state's geological maps report a large deposit of Engadine Dolomite at Point Patterson. It is described as a hard, resistant white commonly crystalline dolomite and interbedded with limestone. The thickness of the deposit ranges from 100 to 175 feet.

CHARLES BURTON of Germfask and Stanley Hill are pictured removing dolomite test cores from a black diamond drilling rig in operation by Joy Manufacturing Co. of Michigan City, Ind., south of Blaney Park Junction. The drilling is being done for Bethlehem Steel Co., which is projecting a dolomite quarry in the area, which has a large deposit of Engadine dolomite. (Daily Press Photo)

Police Stress Needs

Civil Rights: Car Safety

In a drive to curb highway accidents, the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police plans to conduct an intensive four-month traffic emphasis program.

The proposal was made at the 40th annual meeting of the MACP in Marquette and promptly endorsed by Gov. George Romney.

Meeting at Northern Mich-

Segregation

Opposition to segregation in housing and education and the adoption of a code of ethics are contained in a far-reaching civil rights declaration pronounced by the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police in convention in Marquette.

The executive committee was "disturbed by a feeling of unrest and suspicion by the public on the attitude of police and their enforcement, and unanimously endorsed a strong civil rights declaration to allay any fears or clear up any doubts."

The declaration adds that there also "must be equal opportunities for employment for every race and persuasion, so that one of the causes of poverty and crime can be reduced."

Michigan University, the MACP heard Gordon Sheehy, director of the traffic safety center of Michigan State University submit the proposal on behalf of the chiefs.

Stop Violators

The proposal calls for all police departments, including state police and sheriff's departments which wish to cooperate, to "do their utmost to appropriate enforcement methods, to improve the driving behavior of motorists."

The proposal noted that "this will entail each officer on patrol making as many stops of violators as possible, checking the status of the driver's license and determining whether the vehicle's equipment is defective or its operating characteristics unsafe in other ways.

It is proposed that the program be carried out in October, November, December and January.

MACP President George Johnson, who is Marquette's Police Chief, said the safety and traffic committee of the MACP is deeply concerned about the worsening traffic accident situation in Michigan.

Michigan's police drew a strong praise for their firm stand and action supporting civil rights from Dr. Burt Levy, Detroit, director of community services for the Michigan Civil Rights Commission. Levy said "This is the first professional organization of police which has stood up and strongly backed the civil rights move."

He said the police chiefs of Michigan, as a whole, "have done a remarkable job in the matter of civil rights, in particular with the issue of 'move-ins.'"

He said the move-ins result from Negroes, Puerto Ricans and others moving into neighborhoods where until then whites had previously lived alone.

"This has resulted in riots in many sections of the nation," Levy said, "but in Michigan there has been only one isolated incident."

Battle Marker

LANSING (AP) — A historical marker honoring Michigan men who died in the battle of Stones River — one of the decisive battles of the Civil War — will be dedicated by Michigan officials at the site of the battleground, near Murfreesboro, Tenn., July 1.

Runoff Voting Beats Negroes

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — White voters apparently cast their ballots solidly along racial lines to defeat four Negro candidates who had been given a good chance to win Democratic nominations to the all-white South Carolina Legislature.

Voting in adjoining Williamsburg and Clarendon counties followed racial lines closely. Vote totals in the runoff primary Tuesday indicated almost all eligible voters, Negro and white, cast ballots.

Both Negroes and whites had claimed a slight edge in voting registrations in the two central South Carolina counties.

The four Negro candidates had led the legislative races in the June 14 primary which eliminated several white candidates. However, all the white voters apparently rallied behind the white candidates for the runoff.

In Clarendon County, a Negro minister, the Rev. J.S. Hunter, lost his bid for nomination to the county's lone seat in the state House of Representatives. He said he would file a protest involving ballots cast in two precincts in Summerton.

Moscow Rodio Calls Oil Raids Dangerous Step

MOSCOW (AP) — Moscow Rodio called the U.S. air raids near Hanoi and Haiphong today a "new dangerous step by the U.S. ruling circles in expanding aggression against the Vietnamese people."

"Contrary to all the lessons of history," it said on its domestic service, "the U.S. government is resorting to banditry and force in blind rage at the knowledge of its own helplessness."

British Seamen Settle Strike

LONDON (AP) — Britain's 45-day seamen's strike was settled today.

The executive committee of the National Seamen's Union voted 29 to 16 to call off the strike after meeting all morning at their South London headquarters.

The decision followed by less than 24 hours a charge in the House of Commons by Prime Minister Harold Wilson that Communists were pressuring the seamen to prolong the dispute for political motives.

The shipowners, in meetings Tuesday with union chiefs, were adamant. Their final offer was an immediate cut in the working week at sea from 56 hours to 48 with a further eight-hour cut next June, plus 48 days annual vacation.

The strike has tied up nearly 900 ships in British ports and 27,000 men have been idle.

Housing Debate In Second Day

WASHINGTON (AP) — A tough open housing proposal remained in the administration's civil right bill today after a series of inconclusive votes in the House Judiciary Committee. In a frustrating, day-long meeting Tuesday, the committee refused to kill the controversial issue, refused to weaken it and refused to approve it intact. It meets again today in hopes of settling the matter.

Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., summed up the mood of the supporters of an open housing law when he said, "I'm happy inwardly that it is still intact, but from a practical standpoint the situation may prove disappointing."

Celler said he meant that a sweeping ban on racial discrimination in the sale and rental of all housing could be defeated more easily on the House floor than a bill that exempted some forms of housing.

Runaway Boat Kills Operator

CARSON CITY (AP) — A runaway 16-foot boat powered by a 75-horsepower motor killed Victor Louis Maas Jr., 30, a St. Louis boat sales operator, on Montcalm County's Crystal Lake Tuesday.

Maas was piloting the boat, towing a skier, when a steering cable suddenly pulled from a clamp, causing the boat to swerve into a tight circle. Maas and a passenger, Harold Huffine of Elm Hall, were thrown out.

The powerful outboard's propeller passed over Maas. He was dead on arrival at a Carson City hospital.

Huffine escaped injury and managed to grab the boat on one of its turns and shut the motor off. Leland Doleff of Alma, the skier, was uninjured.

Shanghai, Communist China's most populous city, has a population of almost seven million.

Brian London To Get Shot At Clay's Crown Before German Heavy

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay will meet erratic, unranked Brian London in London Aug. 6 or 13 and Germany's Karl Mildenberger in Frankfurt, Germany, Sept. 10 or 17 in an effort to cash in quickly on his popularity overseas.

Arthur Grafton, attorney for Clay's Louisville sponsoring group, and British promoter Lawrie Lewis Tuesday night confirmed The Associated Press' report that the London fight was all set for the indoor Wembley Stadium, which seats 12,000 on Aug. 6, the most likely date.

"It's all settled," said Grafton after a meeting with Lewis, who represents British promoter Jack Solomons.

20 Hits, 15-3 Triumph

Detroit Plate Explosion Good Therapy For Dessen

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP)—The thoughtful Detroit Tigers staged a welcome-back ceremony for their boss Tuesday night.

And the hosts for the party, the California Angels, cooperated beautifully.

Tiger Manager Charlie Dessen was in the stands watching the first baseball game he's seen since being felled by his second heart attack early in the season. His team provided him with some first-rate therapy.

The Tigers hammered 20 hits off five Angel pitchers, collecting 15 runs and the 10th victory in their last 14 games.

Most people stopped counting pretty early in the game, but for the record, the final score was 15-3.

Willie Horton paced the Tiger attack with five RBIs on two singles and a three-run homer, his eighth four-bagger of the year. Al Kaline and Norm Cash also homered for Detroit.

Winning pitcher Earl Wilson, who left the game after seven innings with a pulled leg muscle, helped things along with one RBI on two singles and a triple.

Wilson, Dick McAuliffe, Cash and Horton collected three hits each in the blistering attack on the fourth-place Angels.

Kaline's 13th homer of the season gave the Tigers a 1-0 lead in the second. In the third the Bengals erupted for four more tallies.

Dick Wert and Wilson led off with singles, moved up on a McAuliffe sacrifice and scored when Jake Wood singled to left.

Then Wood scored on Cash's 12th homer and pitcher Clyde Wright's first appearance against the Tigers came to an end.

Paul Schaaf's bases-empty homer for California in the third made it 3-1 and the Angels picked up another run in the fifth when Bobby Knoop tripled and scored on an infield out.

But the Tigers had added four more in their half of the fifth. Three singles, two of them bunts, loaded the bases and a throwing error let McAuliffe score.

Kaline drew an intentional walk, then Horton singled and knocked in two more. Kaline then came across on a sacrifice fly by Jim Northrup.

Detroit's biggest inning was the sixth, when five runs crossed the plate. Wilson singled, scoring both. Cash then singled and Horton offed his homer over the left field fence.

Detroit boosted its lead to 15-2 when Ray Oyler, running for Wert, scored on Wilson's triple. California managed one more run in the ninth, on a bases-loaded sacrifice fly by Jackie Hernandez.

Wright (1-2) took the loss. Wilson increased his season record to 7-6.

The two teams complete their two-game series tonight when eighthander Dave Wickersham (4-0) goes against California George Brunet (5-5).

Williams Happy For Willie Mays

BOSTON (AP) — Ted Williams, one of the most feared sluggers in baseball history, is proud of his hitting feats but doesn't mind being passed in the all-time home run derby by a player of Willie Mays' caliber. "I'm very happy for him," Williams said in extending Mays congratulations for displacing him as the game's No. 3 home run hitter. "Willie's a great guy and has been good for baseball."

Everything's Upside Down In KC; Athletics Ambush Front-Running Baltimore

By The Associated Press
Everything's upside down in Kansas City... and the amazing Athletics never had it so good.

The A's, perennial American League tailenders under a succession of frustrated managers, continued their upswing under new pilot Alvin Dark Tuesday night by ambushing first-place Baltimore 4-3.

The victory, fifth for the A's in their last six starts, gave them a shot at overtaking the New York Yankees in the standings for the first time since Charley Finley was a tot. They are eighth, nine games below the 500 mark but only one-half length short of the Yankees, who lost to last-place Boston 5-3 Tuesday night.

While Kansas City fans have been struggling to keep pace with the comings and goings of their heroes — trades of a steady stream of results — Dark has had his patchwork club on the move. After losing 15 of their first 20 games, the A's have gone 30-20 since May 8.

age out of newcomers Danny Cater (White Sox), Roger Repoz (Yankees) and Jim Gosger (Red Sox).

Cater and Gosger each doubled in a run against the Orioles Tuesday night while rookie Chuck Dobson and relievers Ken Sanders and Jack Aker checked the league leaders on six hits.

Detroit clobbered California 15-3, Minnesota blanked Cleveland 4-0 and Washington beat Chicago 4-1 in other AL games.

In National League play, Philadelphia nipped New York 1-0, Pittsburgh edged Houston 4-3, Cincinnati defeated Los Angeles 3-1, San Francisco trimmed St. Louis 7-1 and Atlanta topped Chicago 4-2.

The Athletics snapped Baltimore's three-game winning streak by grabbing a 4-1 lead and then holding off the Orioles. Bert Campaneris singled in the first inning off loser Jim Palmer and doubles by Cater and Gosger produced two runs.

Home runs by George Thomas and Mike Ryan, coupled with five Yankee errors, helped the Red Sox down New York behind the six-hit pitching of Jose Santiago, who survived two home runs by Mickey Mantle.

Mantle smashed a two-run homer in the first inning and hit the ninth of the season with the bases empty in the eighth.

Willie Horton paced a 20-hit Detroit assault with two singles and a homer, driving in five runs as the Tigers climbed within 2 1/2 games of the league lead. Jake Wood knocked in four runs with three singles while Al Kaline and Norm Cash also homered for the Tigers.

Camilo Pascual and Al Worthington subdued Cleveland on five hits as the Twins rolled to their fourth victory in a row. Pascual worked seven innings before his arm stiffened and Worthington allowed one hit in finishing up. Tony Oliva, Cesar Tovar and Harmon Killebrew produced Minnesota runs with a homer, triple and double, respectively.

The Senators breezed past Chicago as left-hander Mike McCormick scattered five hits and belted a homer. Don Lock cracked a three-run homer for Washington while Bill Skowron had a homer, double and single for the White Sox.

Bob Friend, the Mets' starter, also allowed only two hits but was charged with the loss, his first since coming to New York two weeks ago.

Streaking Cincinnati won its 10th game in the last 11 as Sammy Ellis limited the Dodgers to five hits. It was the third straight victory for Ellis since returning to the Reds starting rotation.

Joe Torre drove in three runs with a single and his 17th homer accounting for half of Atlanta's hits against Chicago's Ken Holtzman. Clay Carroll pitched six innings of shutout relief and got credit for the victory, his third in five decisions.
